Academic Program

The four-week academic program will consist of presentations by Culturally Relevant Pedagogy specialists, group discussions, weekly assessments, weekly tests and scholarly research needed to develop a curricular unit of study. At the end of the seminar, each participant shall make a formal presentation to the entire body as the preliminary "class test." Each of the curricular units including, but not limited to assessment tools, shall be submitted to the Kansas State Department of Education specialists for final review. In the Fall of 2019, each participant shall return to his/her respective school district where they shall "class test" their projects within their existing curriculum during the 2019/2020 academic year. They are encouraged to present the project to their peers in a professional development format. Participants shall compile assessment results as a means of documentation and evaluation.

Program Tri-Directors will award Certificates of Completion of contact hours. Six hours of are graduate credit are available. More details will be available prior to start of seminar. For CEUs, please consult your individual school district administrator.

Requirements for Stipend & KSDE Certification

In February 2020, the participants shall reconvene at Washburn University for a weekend to present their “class test” findings and assessment results. After final revisions, (ensuring that all work is in alignment with the Kansas Standards and the Rose Standards) and approval by Tri-Directors and KSDE specialists, each participant shall receive a $350 stipend and refund of their $50 deposit (see details below) for a total of $400.

Housing and Cost

1. Housing is provided at no cost by Washburn University. Participants must provide their own bedding, bath and personal essential. Program will provide lunch/dinner Monday through Thursday. A light snack will be provided after check-in on Sunday, June 16.
2. The finalists shall pay a deposit of $50 each to meet administrative costs. The deposit shall be due on May 17, 2019 (after finalists are announced).
3. Upon completion of all requirements and verification by Tri-Directors and KSDE, each participant will receive a $350 stipend and refund of $50 deposit for a total of $400.
